Computers Used To Locate New Jobs for Jobless
By GEORGE W. CORNELL
NEW YORK (AP) — A vast new push-button re-employment system is under way to obtain new jobs for thousands of civilians to be put out of work by shutdowns of military installations.
Information is being coded for an electronic computer to relocate the workers swiftly in other posts of their choice.
"It's a fabulous thing," said A. G. Gross, sent here from the Bureau of Ships in Washington as assistant to the commandant of the Brooklyn Navy Yard to coordinate the program.
"We have high hopes for its success."
The Brooklyn yard, with about 9,400 employees, is the largest of 95 military installations ordered closed by the Defense Department last November. Work at the yard will be phased out by June 30, 1966.
Altogether, about 17,000 civilian workers will lose their jobs. Also set for closing were two other shipyards, in Boston and Portsmouth, Maine, and various

Rickover Hits Again at U.S. Higher Education
WASHINGTON (AP) — Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, atomic submarine expert and volunteer critic of the U.S. school system, set off a new salvo of depth charges under the "education establishment" Friday.
Lawyers, paid consultants and advisory boards also got caught in the blast waves at a hearing before a House Education subcommittee.
Rickover was invited to talk about the administration's $250-million higher education bill, but he never quite got to it. He barely got past the title.
"What is higher education?" he asked.
"We have no definition," he answered himself. "Our definitions are not good enough to act intelligently on this subject."
Rickover preferred to talk about one of his pet subjects — the need for a national education standard for high school graduates.
As he outlined it, the test would be taken voluntarily by the students and would be the standard on which college scholarships and admissions would be based. It would also permit an evaluation of U.S. public schools, he said.
For teachers, he couldn't say enough kind things. "They should be paid more than anybody else in the country," he said, and urged that federal funds be used to boost their salaries.
Scattering his fire, he said there is no need for the government to help train lawyers — "God knows we have too many lawyers now"; he doesn't find paid consultants in his field very useful; and when an advisory board comes into the picture "you don't get anything done."

Foe of Schools Moves Back To Colorado
CHEYENNE (AP)—Cheyenne school officials said today a Colorado man who moved to Wyoming when he moved to Wyoming. But Judge Holmes said that Lofquist would be subject to contempt proceedings if he returned to Colorado.
Jesse W. Lofquist moved his family to Cheyenne from Boulder several days ago to avoid a court order that he send his children to school.
Dist. Judge Horace B. Holmes of Boulder dismissed contempt of court citations against Lofquist when he moved to Wyoming. Mrs. Lofquist told officials they had no intention of entering the three children affected by the Wyoming law in Cheyenne schools. The Lofquist also have two children over 16 years old who are not affected.
Now the superintendent's office says the Lofquist's landlady has said that the family has move back to Colorado.
Lofquist maintains his children get better instruction at home than they can in school.

Sophia Loren May Face New Bigamy Charge

ROME (AP) — A Rome civil court decision in the Italian-style divorce and marriage proceedings involving Sophia Loren and Carlo Ponti apparently will lead to renewed bigamy charges against the movie producer and the Academy Award winning actress.

Public prosecution sources indicated today action on the charges will be resumed.

The court Monday declared void the couple's 1957 Mexican marriage by proxy, ruling that Ponti was married at the time.

The Italian public prosecutor had been holding up action on bigamy charges against the couple pending the ruling. Bigamy is a criminal offense in Italy, where there is no divorce.

Ponti took out French citizenship last month and indicated then that he planned to marry Miss Loren in France.

Ponti married Giuliana Fiastri in a Roman Catholic ceremony in 1946. Twice later, she sought an annulment but it was denied by a church tribunal. They have two children.

Ponti and Miss Loren had asked the civil court to reject the prosecution view that their Mexican marriage was invalid. They presented a 1962 Mexican court ruling that their proxy wedding had been incorrectly carried out.

H. L. Hunt Writes

I am sometimes asked the secret of my success. Evidently those who pose the inquiry think of the accumulation of wealth as unqualified success. Of this I am not so sure as the questioners seem to be. Also I am asked if education is a requisite. My answer that education is highly desirable in achieving refinement and culture, but for making money it may be a liability.

To accumulate wealth the money-maker must be lucky and have his good fortune occur at the critical time. He must be of an acquisitive nature and should be energetic. Foresight may be stressed, but I must look upon financial success as the result of accurate timing.

There may be something which looks profitable but does not appear favorable or practical to do at the time. However, the time may come when action can be taken and the time for accomplishment may be very transient. Unless one is gifted in timing he may not recognize the arrival of the precise time to take advantage of the golden opportunity to make a worthwhile deal.

Most business transactions are a gamble, some good, while in others the odds are bad.

The percentage for success must be calculated and the deal made only if the reward will justify the danger of loss. No deal should ever be made if the occurrence of a loss would be catastrophic, for a better "time" will come.

U.S. May Become More Involved in Viet War

cedents to show that not all wars were "declared" and that many presidents have acted without formal congressional sanction.

Since the United States became involved in the cold war almost 20 years ago, however, presidents have generally sought congressional authorization or approval for their use of forces abroad.

President Johnson obtained a resolution from Congress covering U.S. operations in Southeast Asia last August after he had carried through the air strike against the torpedo boat bases in North Viet Nam.

The resolution specified that Congress "approves and supports" the determination of the President to repel attacks on U.S. armed forces by "all necessary measures." It also declared the United States was "prepared as the President determines" to assist countries in the area (including South Viet Nam) to defend their freedom by "all necessary steps including the use of armed force."

Congressional committees have compiled more than 100 incidents throughout American history in which presidents have employed force abroad to protect U.S. property or citizens, keep a potential enemy at bay, or fight an undeclared war.

In 1818, President James Monroe sent troops to Florida, a Spanish possession. President Ulysses S. Grant intervened in Santo Domingo in 1889. Before the United States got into World War II in 1941 President Franklin D. Roosevelt dispatched a force to protect Iceland against possible German conquest.

More recently President Harry S. Truman began fighting in Korea in June 1950 without a declaration of war.

In October 1962 President John F. Kennedy threw a naval blockade around Cuba and told the Soviet Union to remove its nuclear missiles. He was backed by a congressional resolution expressing U.S. determination to prevent Communist aggression from Cuba and to deny use of that island as a base for foreign aggression in this hemisphere.

At least four such resolutions have been passed in the last decade.

These expressions by Congress together with the historical record of presidential precedents are cited by administration legal experts as supporting President Johnson's authority as commander in chief to fight the war in Viet Nam as he sees fit.

So far as Johnson himself is concerned the current issues do not post constitutional problems but grave problems of policy bearing on the central question: how to persuade North Viet Nam, supported by the Soviet Union and Red China, that it cannot win the guerrilla war in South Viet Nam and cannot drive the United States out of Southeast Asia without increasingly risking its own destruction?

When North Vietnamese PT boats attacked American destroyers last August there was already general acceptance in the National Security Council that some action would have to be taken against North Viet Nam if it was ever to be brought to the peace table.

Johnson had determined however, that the United States would not deliberately broaden the war.

The attack on the destroyers, viewed as a direct Red challenge to the United States, was judged here to call for a violent response and the President approved a one-shot retaliatory blow — a decision short of a policy of permanently expanding the conflict into North Viet Nam. Any hope that this single action would persuade the leaders in Hanoi to change their ways proved vain.

Subsequently there were other Communist actions which angered U.S. officials but did not in the President's final judgment present such a direct challenge.

Johnson chose not to hit North Viet Nam following attacks on an airfield and an officers' billet late last year. Seven Americans were killed, many were wounded. In retrospect, some authorities think the Communists may then have gotten the idea that the United States was weakening in its determination to stay in South Viet Nam.

In the policy reviews which followed the November election, administration officials reportedly decided that more Communist attacks against American installations had to be expected and that the United States should be ready to strike back.

Therefore, when the attack was made on U.S. installations at Pleiku last Sunday, the disposition to deliver a counterblow was already firmly established among the policy makers.

Sources say that there was no consideration of not retaliating. The question before the President and his advisers immediately became one of deciding on specific action. The U.S. strike against bases near Dong Hoi in North Viet Nam, which the United States described as infiltration and supply bases for Red troops going into South Viet Nam, was the result.

Rio Grande Ave., was reported in good condition this morning after being admitted at 8 p.m. Monday night with a stab wound. Police said Foster had been having a party at his address when he and another man had an argument, and during the argument Foster was stabbed.

Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, Vietnamese air force commander and leader of the raid by 24 Vietnamese bombers on North Viet Nam Monday, was decorated with one of Viet Nam's highest medals.

Ky, who flew from Da Nang to Saigon with the other 23 pilots, climbed out of his Skyraider munching a ham sandwich. Before landing, the airman performed aerobatics above the airport.

Back in Da Nang, a key airfield 80 miles from the North Viet Nam border, units of the U.S. Marine Corps Hawk Anti-aircraft Missile Battalion flown in from Okinawa were declared operational at 1:40 a.m. today.

The 36 target-seeking missiles were in place on their wheeled launching carriages, manned by 95 Marine officers and enlisted men.

An Army spokesman said the base had until now lacked equipment to down low-flying aircraft before they could get in close to the base. Another two Hawk units were on their way by sea, according to Marine Capt. Leon E. Obenhaus, 30, of Victoria, Tex., commander of the Hawk Battalion's 'A' Battery.

Supersonic F102 jet fighters armed with heat-seeking missiles are in alert position, ready to scramble in case of any attack by North Vietnamese or Communist Chinese aircraft.

Vietnamese military patrols roamed the outer perimeter of the base, on guard against attacks by Viet Cong units or mortars. Such attacks on Bien Hoa air base last November and Pleiku Sunday took a high toll in American personnel and aircraft.

Along the frontier and throughout the 1st Army Corps region, Vietnamese armed forces were on full alert.

"It seems too much to expect that the Viet Cong and North Viet Nam will let the aerial attacks Sunday and Monday go without some sort of retaliation," a U.S. military adviser said.

A senior American adviser said Vietnamese troops in the frontier area were in fighting trim with high morale. He said morale was further boosted by reports that 228 Viet Cong were killed in a major battle Sunday south of Da Nang. The battle also claimed a heavy toll of Vietnamese lives and weapons.

eerie light of flares dropped by planes and helicopters, the boats continued the search.

Searchers could see the lights of the shore and the glow of Manhattan about 40 miles away.

Chris Walk of the Federal Aviation Agency said the last radio call from the plane was an acknowledgment of a routine instruction from the Kennedy tower to change direction. The plane had reported it was climbing through 3,700 feet, heading southeast.

The pilot was Capt. Frederick Robert Carson, 41, of Huntington, N.Y., a veteran of 19 years with the airline. Both he and first officer Edward Robert Dunn, also 41, of Clinton, Conn., were pilots during World War II, Carson in the Army Air Force and Dunn in the Navy.

A Civil Aeronautics Board said the investigation to establish the probable cause of the accident may take a long time.

Pone Kingpetch In Top Shape For Title Bout

BANGKOK (AP) — World flyweight champion Pone Kingpetch of Thailand was reported in excellent condition today for his long-delayed title defense against Italian challenger Salvatore Burrini, scheduled for March 12 in Rome.

The champion's manager, Hiran Sidokhuab, said Pone had not weight problems and was working out with three top-rated Thai fighters.

Hiran said Pone had sparred 35 rounds at his training camp and had worked the equivalent of 90 rounds on the punching bag.

Pone has not fought since January 1964 when he won back the world flyweight title from Japan's Hiroyuki Ebihara in Bangkok.

Hiran said he had received a cable from Italian promoter Rino Tommasi saying that flight arrangements to Rome had been made for Pone and two companions and that the March 12 date was definite.

Trading With Reds 'Without Politics' Seen

sion, or fully alerted that it will open the door to the Kremlin rulers to use large quantities of U.S. goods to intensify their "wars of liberation" in Africa, Asia and Latin America.

The President's total commitment to this policy is indicated by his still-undisclosed plans to establish a 15-member "blue ribbon" council to create a public consensus for increasing trade with the Soviet bloc.

This Red-trade panel, to be composed of nationally known business, agriculture, labor and academic leaders, will probably be headed by Laurence Rockefeller, who bosses his family's giant network of foundations.

The President sounded him out on the council idea when Rockefeller recently reported to the White House on his exploratory trade trip to Russia.

Under the present administration proposal, the "blue ribbon" council will be given a blank check to "hold public hearings and conduct continuing studies to determine the methods by which trade and goods and services between the U.S. and countries within the Communist bloc can be expanded."

It will be authorized to secure directly from any executive department or agency all help and information, including classified intelligence estimates and statistical reports, needed to promote the expansion of this trade.

THE NEW STRATEGY
Since Congress has been the main roadblock to any across-the-board easing of trade restrictions on the Reds, the President's advisers are resorting to the strategy of making it appear the legislators are demanding this policy change.

To create this impression, White House aides have arranged to have Senator Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., who also favors trade with Red China, introduce a joint resolution calling on the President to establish a 15-member Council for Expanded Trade with the Soviet bloc.

The plan is to slip the Magnuson resolution through the Senate and House with as little debate as possible, and then later have this congressional authorization as an endorsement of the council's trade-increasing recommendations.

One of the most important of these, already drafted in the White House, will be the advocacy of a proposal by President Johnson to repeal the Johnson Act of 1934.

This act prohibits private U.S. citizens and firms from granting either long-term loans or credits to foreign governments in default on their debts to the U.S.

SPECIAL MESSAGE
According to congressional sources, the President will send his repeal recommendation to Congress in a special trade message in March.

If approved by Congress, the proposal would clear the way for the U.S. to extend long-term credit to Russia without requiring payment of its World War II lend-lease debt.

The President will propose, with the council's expected endorsement, the granting of "favored nation" trading rights to Russia and the Eastern European satellites. These trade benefits are now reserved for non-Communist countries.

He also will recommend that the administration be given authority to guarantee payment of sales made to the Soviet bloc should the Communists balk at paying U.S. firms.

As outlined by White House aides, President Johnson's objective in increasing trade with Russia is to make peaceful co-existence so attractive that the Soviet leaders will find it in their interest to agree to regional peace settlements in South Viet Nam and the Congo.

The big question about the President's proposed trade policy is why the Russians would want to stop their drive to take over the world as long as they can "have their cake and eat it."

PROMOTING U.S. TRADE
The Senate Commerce Committee is going to consider the establishment of joint government-industry promotional activities abroad, according to a report being circulated by Senator Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., chairman. In a letter to members, Magnuson stated that the committee's staff is investigating "the utilization of foreign currency, generated by the food-for-peace program, to set up trade sales and service centers in Asia, Africa and Latin America to facilitate the creation of new markets for U.S. products."

To meet this need, he reported the committee will hold hearings on legislation to create a Trade Development Corporation.

Rain and Fog Cover Wide Areas of U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Widespread rain and fog shrouded the nation from Texas to the Northeast today. Many communities kept a wary eye on rising rivers and streams.

Hazardous driving warnings were in effect for northwestern Texas and Oklahoma because of freezing rain and snow. Fog and blowing snow made traveling treacherous in eastern New Mexico. The weather was blamed for the deaths of two Maljamar, N.M., women.

The Weather Bureau said a storm center in the extreme southern Plains would produce heavy snow in the middle Mississippi Valley.

The Weather Bureau said another storm center in the extreme northwestern plains and the Rockies produced several inches of new snow in the highest elevations.

Precipitation was heavy in the lower Mississippi Valley and the southern Plains Monday. Junction City, Tex., received 1.85 inch in one hour.

Rain covered almost all of Texas, some in heavy amounts. Fort Worth recorded 3.20 inches with some minor flooding. A highway accident on a slick road killed one person. Slick rain struck the Texas Panhandle.

Guymon, in the Oklahoma Panhandle, measured 4 inches of snow in six hours.

The snow is stacked up to 19 inches in Cloudcroft, N.M.

Thirty pupils went to school in a restaurant-tavern in Tillamook, Ore. — their classroom for the next three weeks. They were unable to get to school because of the Wilson River landslide.

Warm temperatures established records in some areas — and sent sun-worshippers to the boardwalk in Atlantic City, N.J. The boardwalk temperature hit 65 — 8 degrees over the 1962 record for the date.

In Roanoke, Va., the mercury reached 66 one week after a record low of 5 was set.

The James River and its tributaries were near flood stage in Virginia. Two men were believed to have drowned in the rising waters.

An ice jam in the Ramapo River in northern New Jersey caused overflowing from a two-mile area before it was broken up, forcing 40 families from their homes.

Ice jams on the Allegheny River and some tributaries broke up after causing minor flooding in three western Pennsylvania communities.

Sanity Issue Examined in Hermanitz Trial

fendant.

Hermanitz, 50, Fountain, has been charged with the Aug. 8 fatal shooting of William E. Lucas, 44, 2223 Lockhaven Dr. He has pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity and the present trial, now in its sixth day, is restricted to the sanity issue.

Dr. Donahue, a witness for the defense, said tests had indicated that Hermanitz suffered intense depression, some feeling of persecution and was filled with doubt, self-criticism and self-recrimination.

The doctor also added that the defendant had a great lack of self confidence, was of average intelligence but had a very distorted picture of the external world. Hermanitz interpreted it as "having fun" and behaving in a much more active and creative fashion than the manner in which he lived.

A considerable portion of Monday's proceedings was devoted to lengthy arguments in the absence of the jury concerning testimony to be offered by Dr. Thomas J. Hurley, District Attorney Bob Russell and Assistant District Attorney Bob Isaac wished it excluded, but defense lawyer William Eckhart argued successfully to have the doctor's testimony heard by the jury.

Dr. Hurley, a local psychiatrist, had also examined Hermanitz and said when he first saw him it was obvious that his mental processes and physical action were abnormally slow.

His pulse was fast, there were a number of things he did not recall and he was a "difficult, problem patient." "I observed a man of 49 who appeared to be more like a man of 60."

The court recessed at 5:30 Monday afternoon and resumed this morning at nine when Dr. Hurley will complete his testimony.

Judge Hunter D. Hardeman is on the bench.

Aluminum Space Station Is Tested

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force Systems Command is testing a full-scale aluminum model of a space station which acts like a turtle.

When launched, the 1,400-pound space station is five feet long. After it is in orbit it can stretch out to 15 feet.

The air force said a bladder inside the structure can be expanded with compressed air, thus sending the neck out to full length. The sections move on a track arrangement.

The Air Force said there are no plans to launch the experimental model in space.

In an announcement, it said, "if it is developed for space use, several of the structures could be stacked on the upper stage of a booster, rocketed into space, and expanded to form a rotating space station."

World's Fair May Obtain Loan Money

NEW YORK (AP) — A Long Island bank says it may be able to loan the World's Fair the $3.5 million President Robert Moses says it needs to reopen on April 21.

Arthur T. Roth, president of the Franklin National Bank of Mineola, said Monday his bank, and possibly others, would loan the money in short-term notes.

Moses had phoned Roth and a number of other bankers to inquire about loans. He made it clear he wasn't contacting "those banks that walked out on us."

He referred to the resignations last month of five banker members of the fair's finance committee, who quit. They claimed Moses hadn't provided adequate financial data.

Mahalia Jackson Says She 'Just Needs the Rest'

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH CHICAGO (AP) — "I'm old and I just need the rest," says Mahalia Jackson.

The 53-year-old gospel singer has recovered from the heart attack she suffered five months ago. She'll resume her career next month with a series of television appearances on the West Coast.

"I want to sing continuously again but I don't ever want to go through this again," said Miss Jackson in an interview Monday.

"It's the same with Pearl (Bailey) and Nat King Cole," she said. "We're just all getting tired and getting old and overworked."

Miss Bailey, 46, is in a Hollywood hospital, suffering from what her doctor called heart strain induced by overwork. Cole, also 46, recently underwent surgery for lung cancer.

"You must tell Pearl," said Miss Jackson, "to don't work as hard as she has been. She and I once made a movie together and I can tell you, she's a workaholic."

"Pearl's been tired a long time, just like me."

Miss Jackson said doctors at the University of Chicago told her two weeks ago that she could resume her singing.

"I went to a Roman Catholic Mass and prayed there for the Lord to continue to strengthen and heal me," she said.

"I'm a Baptist, but I believe there's only one God."

Miss Jackson said the heart attack convinced her of the necessity of slowing down.

"This heart condition frightened me," she said. "I knew that the heart is the main motor. I lay quiet like they told me, but I'd like to lose my mind sitting around this house."

Next month's television appearances won't be too strenuous, she said, because "singing is a part of my life."

on TV isn't nearly as hard as singing on the stage."

"You got to produce on the stage — and I don't hardly even get warmed up on TV," she said.

Before the heart attack, the former Louisiana washerwoman had spent an exhausting year on tour, including Europe.

"They want me to come over again in July," she said, "but I don't want that money so much. I'm going to wait until September, one year from the time of the attack."

Miss Jackson said she weighed more than 250 pounds before her heart troubles, and now weighs 200.

"Doctors say I have to lose at least 25 more pounds, but I'm afraid I'll end up looking like a skeleton."

LOVELY DAY
LOVELAND, Col. (UPI) — large portion of the Western world has known and sent Valentines, and today Americans are again preparing for Feb. 14, when about 100,000 sweethearts of all ages demonstrate their sentimentality by sending their Valentines to Loveland for re-mailing — so the envelopes will carry that romantic postmark.

The Loveland post office's Valentine business, however, is a tiny fraction of the total Valentines that will be dispatched or delivered by hand, estimated at 300 million by a spokesman for Hallmark Cards. For more than five centuries a

WIDOW BECOMES MOTHER
ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — A photographer's model has caused concern among employees of a public relations firm here.

The model, a black widow spider, turned out to be a mother. The agency obtained the spider from a wildlife expert, photographed her as part of a project, and placed her in a jar with a cover that had been punctured to permit air.

A few days later, a secretary noticed hundreds of tiny spiders about the size of pinheads crawling out the holes in the top of the jar.

The wildlife expert was called to help dispatch the spider family. He reported that the newborn spiders were poisonous but that they did not have enough venom to produce any serious effects.

The office force of the agency has remained sharp-eyed, however, because no one knows how many hundreds of spiders were born or how many may have escaped.

DEAFNESS WARNING
KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Family doctors must be more alert than ever to early signs of hearing loss, Dr. James L. Smith, of Houston, reports in "GP" magazine, published by the American Academy of General Practice.

He said this is so because rapid advances in treatment and mechanical hearing devices have improved chances of restoration or rehabilitation. Deafness, according to the expert, probably is the most psychologically and socio-economically damaging of all so-called non-disabling handicaps.

Designer Talks on Fashion

NEW YORK — (NEA) — In her showroom at Pattullo-Jo Copeland on New York's Seventh Avenue, designer Jo Copeland talked to me about current fashion trends.

Surrounded by her own beautiful spring collection, Miss Copeland gave her views on such topics as pants, above-the-knee skirts and the current trend toward nudity.

She is an articulate woman and her comments were sharp and to the point.

Re pants: "I don't understand all this hysteria about pants. They've been around for a long time. There's nothing wrong with a woman wearing them if she knows when, where and how. But they don't belong in the city or in a chic restaurant anywhere. And for formal wear, they are out of order entirely."

On short skirts: "They're awful. Knees are ugly. Instead of exposing them, we should thank our stars it's possible to hide them with skirts."

Re cut-to-the-navel and little topless numbers: "I don't like vulgarity even when it's done expensively. In fact, I find it more offensive than anyone with a lot of money to spend on clothes should know better."

"But," said Jo Copeland, "a designer can't ignore the kooky styles that make shock news in the collections. These shockers either find their correct niche eventually at the hands of designers or they die because they were no good to begin with."

"Take the sack. It's still with us — but all the bugs are out. The current relaxed silhouette is the result of the sack in its original form."

"So a designer, you see, must be respectful of every new movement. New direction is inspiring, but you must know how far to go with it."

She feels strongly that women should look pretty, elegant and feminine at all times. And she has accomplished this for the women who wear her designs.

Freshness and femininity is the mood of the Jo Copeland spring collection of suits, daytime dresses and formal gowns.

She has used soft crepes, crisp silks and floating chiffon. Her colors include bright floral prints, spring's favorite navy and a whole new range of pinks in the coral-salmon family rather than in the mauve tones.

Here is a lady who knows whereof she speaks. And every item she has designed for spring is the essence of the elegant femininity she believes in.

Student Nurses Will Aid Heart Fund Drive

Elmo Clark announced that on Valentine's Day, a "Hit for Heart Car Smash" program will be sponsored by the Student Nurses Action in the Community — an organization of student nurses of Penrose Hospital and Memorial Hospital. Miss Carmen LeBaron will be chairman for the nurses; Miss Anne McGivern is co-chairman. Town Bradner will assist Mr. Clark in coordinating the project for the Heart Fund.

The project will be one of humor in which everyone is invited to Memorial Park to "Hit for Heart" by wielding a sledge hammer on a dilapidated car. Sixty student nurses will participate in the program. "We would rather tow poor cars off the road than try to save accident victims that these jalopies might produce," said Miss LeBaron.

City police and firemen will volunteer their support of this program, working with Mr. Gene German, Superintendent of Parks. Proceeds of the 25 cent tickets will be used for Heart research and education.

The bidding:
East South West North
Pass 1 1 1 1
2 5 0 Pass Pass

Opening lead: King of ♠
An imaginative defensive play by West put the finishing touches to declarer's five diamond contract.

Although South's holding possesses considerable playing potential, he lacks the required four defensive tricks for a demand bid. On the other hand, he has too much to open with five diamonds which is considered to be a preemptive bid. He accordingly started off with one diamond.

West overcalled with one heart and North bid one spade. East offered a distributional raise to two hearts. After partner's voluntary action, South was willing to take his chances on game, and he jumped directly to five diamonds. Observe that this call is not considered to be a shutout. If partner has appropriate values, he is at liberty to carry on.

West opened the king of hearts on which East dropped the queen. This is a conventional signal that guarantees the ability to win the next trick in the suit and requests an underlead of the ace on the next round.

West despaired of being able to put his partner in, for he was convinced from the bidding that South had a singleton and would ruff a heart continuation. It appeared to West that the only hope for defeating the contract rested in the establishment of a club trick. There was obviously little time to lose, for dummy's spade suit loomed as a potential source of discards after West's trump trick was dislodged.

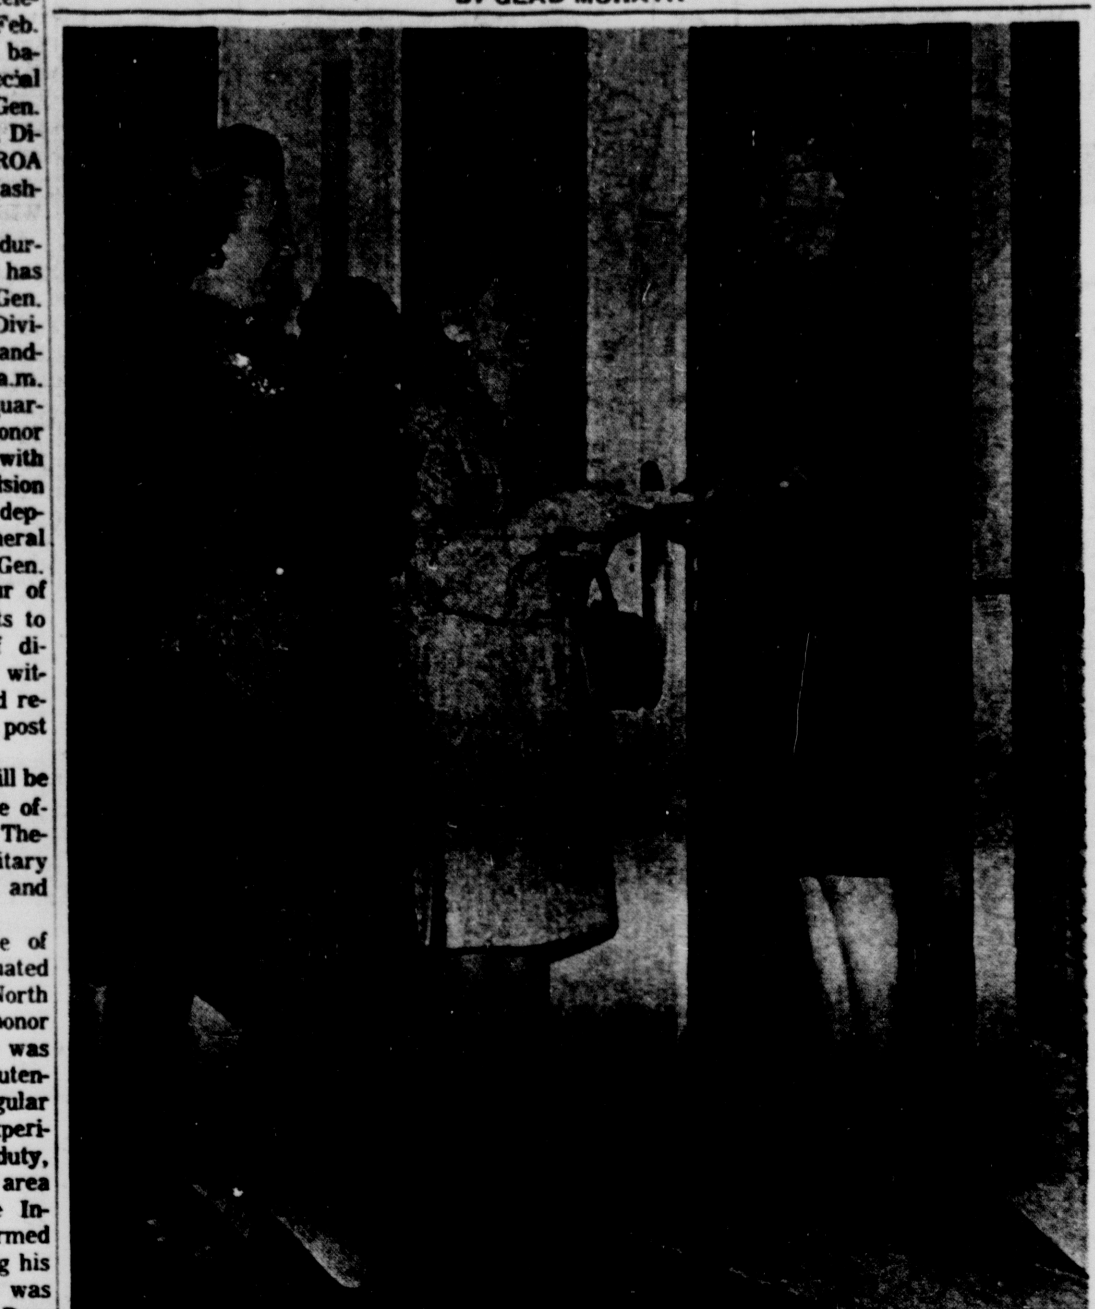

At trick two, West shifted to the king of clubs. Declarer played dummy's ace and led a trump to his hand. When East showed out on the second diamond, it revealed that South was off a trump trick. Since he also had to lose a club, there was no way he could make the hand.

Observe that, if West continues hearts at trick two, declarer ruffs, cashes the ace, king of diamonds followed by the ace of spades and then gives up a trick to the queen of trumps. When South regains the lead, North is put in with the ace of clubs, and declarer obtains two club discards on the king and queen of spades. All he loses is one heart and one diamond.

Playhouse Merits Its Place in the Sun

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Most of the sparkle and glitter are on the other side of the footlights at the Royal Poinciana Playhouse — billed as "the most fabulous show place under the sun."

Women attired in $1,000 (and more) gowns and adorned with $30 million (collectively) in jewels assemble at the playhouse with the nation's leading industrialists, financiers, leaders of society and political figures.

The playhouse has become a cultural magnet for wealthy people the world over, and it is the high point of the Palm Beach social life during the winter season.

Rolls-Royces, Lincolns, Jaguars and Bentleys draw up to the red-carpeted entrance on opening nights and deposit such internationally known figures as members of the Kennedy family, the Benson Fords, the R. J. Reynolds family, the James Kimberlys.

Families faithfully renew their subscriptions each year because it's "de rigueur."

This past year only about 10 opening night subscriptions passed from the hands of old-line families onto the open market. In these instances, they became available because of death, foreign travel, or moving out of the country.

Youth Lacks Jobs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Today a job, rather than the first pair of long pants, is the symbol of acceptance into the world of adults, the National Education Association (NEA) reports. "But jobs for young people are harder to earn, and there are now more than one million youths between the ages of 16 and 24 in, symbolically, short pants," the NEA said. "The unemployment rate among young people already is higher than it was during the great depression, and it is close to three times the rate for the labor force as a whole."

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CURSE

Here is a very unique idea for making coasters, passed on to me by a friend:

Cut up samples of carpet, preferably a type which is not too bulky. (The easiest design to work with is a circle.) There is absolutely no drip from wet glasses. Use the carpet side UP on your tables.

I use the left-over for cleaning ash trays! They are like a scrub brush, get into all the corners and can be used over and over. Terrific!

I used a single-edged razor blade to cut my carpet sample, and cut it from the underneath to save cramping my hands with a pair of scissors.

Carpet samples can be bought on sale for a song. —Sybil Shoemaker

Dear Heloise:

My boys love to wear white or wheat-colored jeans, but getting them clean is quite a problem.

However, I discovered that if I wet them thoroughly, sprinkle the dirty or stained spots with a cleanser (which says "contains bleach") and let it set for fifteen to thirty minutes, then scrub the spots a little with a stiff brush, and toss in with my regular laundry... they will come out looking fine. —Ranches Bradley

I have often advocated this for teen agers' white socks, dish towels which we use in the kitchen and soiled wash cloths, but never thought about using it on jeans. However, be sure to look at the label first to see if your particular jeans say, "Do NOT use bleach."

Now, aren't you a darling? —HELOISE

Dear Heloise:

Here's a hint for cookie makers:

Instead of dropping cookie dough with a teaspoon try using a melon ball cutter. Dip this in flour just enough to keep the dough from sticking. It works quicker and the cookies are the same size. —M. J. Boutald

Dear Folks:

For those of you who have silver goblets, or small silver pieces you do not use too often, did you know that you could take "wax" paper sandwich bags (yep, the bags we put our husband's lunch in) and use them for a cover so the silver will not get tarnished?

Real tricky, especially for small pieces. Suffices just as well as anything else, so far as I've found out. —Heloise

Dear Heloise:

My husband and I enjoy canned refrigerated biscuits and rolls, but have run into quite a waste problem.

We are unable to eat more than three or four rolls at one meal and hate to throw the rest out.

I have tried storing the uncooked rolls in wax paper with-out success.

I am sure there are others who also have this problem. Being a newlywed, I haven't had enough experience to solve this problem. Any suggestions? —Betty Lawson

Can anybody help Betty? We sure would appreciate the ideal solution. Rolls and canned biscuits just will not keep when opened and rolled in wax paper. I tried it.

Write your letters to Heloise in care of this paper. Letters do not have to be signed to appear. —Heloise

Dear Heloise:

That old floor mop just doesn't polish your floors?

Then take a tip from one of long experience, especially if you use the same type liquid polish on your floor as you do on your furniture.

Prepare your furniture dust cloth (generous size) with your favorite liquid polish. When the dusting job is done (and you have dust mopped up in the usual manner) put your soiled dust cloth flat on the bare floor and with that long-handled mop go over those floors again using a bit of pressure. You will find that the floor gleams. —Jane

Dear Heloise:

Here's a trick I use when I fry French onion rings. After slicing the onions, I shake a few at a time in a paper sack to which some flour has been added. Then I dip the onion rings in my batter and fry them.

There is no trouble with the batter not clinging to the onion slice and there is no need to first soak them in milk or anything else. —Mrs. C. L. D.

Luxury Insurance

NEW YORK (UPI) — For many Americans the cost of insuring furs, diamonds and other luxury valuables is lower today than ever, it is reported in the Journal of Insurance Information. Thirty years ago, everyone across the country paid $25 per $1,000 for such insurance. Today, the cost of insuring family jewels ranges from $24 per $1,000 for such insurance. To- losses are high) to $10 per $1,000 in Indiana. On the other hand, in Chicago (where mink coat losses are high) rates for minks are $18 per $1,000, compared with $3 per $1,000 for all fur in Wisconsin.

The mother who dresses like her teen-ager daughter looks like a little girl who never grows up.

True popularity means being well-liked, not surrounded by hangers-on.

The teen-ager with a what's-in-it-for-me attitude discourages friends.

Nature Study

NEW YORK (UPI) — "Compton's Pictured Encyclopaedia" for young people, 1965 edition, contains a 12-page nature study article incorporating the colorful trans-vision technique of illustration.

The guide, which reflects increased interest in science, was prepared by Dr. Hilary Deason, director of the Science Library Program for the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Dear Abby--

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Second Thoughts

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would print my letter for the benefit of all teen-agers—especially the girl who signed her letter, "FIFTEEN AND PICKED ON." She complained that her mother was always "yelling" at her.

Constant reminders about grooming, posture, keeping the complexion and hair clean, getting enough rest, doing homework, eating properly, and not wasting too much time watching TV or talking on the phone, are all for her own good. I am 15, and my mother used to remind me of all those things, and I also felt "picked on." But I am not "picked on" any more because my mother died in July. I grew up overnight. (Please sign me) —"WISH I WERE PICKED ON NOW"

DEAR ABBY: Please tell that busybody, who wrote to say that her neighbor was a "thief" because the towels on her clothesline had the names of different hotels on them, that I have news for her.

John's Bargain Stores scattered throughout Philadelphia sell these towels at a discount as "seconds." Last summer I bought a dozen of them, and because of troublemakers like her I have to hang them in my cellar. —FLORA ON WEBSTER STREET

DEAR FLORA: Go ahead and hang 'em outside, and if any of your nosy neighbors gives you a bad time ask JOHN to speak for YOU!

DEAR ABBY: Perhaps you'll tell me, as you've told countless other wives whose blessings include a faithful husband who is an excellent provider, that I have a lot of nerve complaining about a comparative trifle, but here it is: Our family is together for only one meal a day. I maintain that this should be a time for daily devotion and quiet family conversation. My husband, who has not heard the news all day, brings a portable radio to the table and lets it blast forth. Sports are his hobby, so after the news we all must listen to some sort of sporting event. Shall I resort to cafeteria style? My husband could have the table to himself while the children eat on trays in front of the TV set. And I could nurse my grudge comfortably with the evening paper. Shall we continue as is? Or is there a logical solution? —ANTI-RADIO

DEAR ANTI: If you can schedule your dinner before or after the news and sports, try it. If your husband still cannot forego the radio for an hour's companionship with his family, split up and enjoy dinner as best you can. P.S. Nursing a grudge is no aid to digestion.

CONFIDENTIAL TO: "Mixed-Up Couple In Monterey": Yes, I do answer questions like "that." But not in the column. Other married couples have been "mixed up" about the same thing. Send me your name and address and I will answer you personally.

A woman living alone is sometimes wise not to list her full name in the telephone directory. Instead, she should use initials. For instance, if her name is Mary Jane Jones, she should not list it that way. This would make her a possible victim of "crank" phone calls. Instead, she should simply list herself in the directory as M. J. Jones. This way, her friends know who it is, and strangers have no way of knowing that she is a lone woman.

'Seduction' By Professors Is Being Charged

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — University's young English instructors "sexually arouse freshmen" women deliberately. The remark was attributed, in an official report of former student officers, to Dean of Women Lucile A. Allen. The dean strongly disagreed with that. She said it was an attempt to reconstruct discussions which occurred more than nine months ago.

In the student version, the dean told a woman's council meeting that "salacious materials" used in freshman English and "the erotic approach adopted by many of the younger professors" contributed to problems of freshmen coeds.

The report continued: "These professors, she said, sexually arouse the freshmen both within the classroom and without it. She cited a case in point a story about a professor who stood upon the steps of Wilbur Hall and urged the freshmen to 'make' a girl within a week."

"The young professors arouse the girls sexually, as well. They concentrate deliberately on the erotic aspects of literature, in part because those who are unmarried use literature as their sexual outlet, and in part because they wish to seduce the girls in their classes."

The dean, taking particular exception to this, said she thought "the students have tried to be honest" in telling of the meeting but "I believe their interpretations are inaccurate."

The sexual references were presented as supporting data to student charges that deans interfered with disciplinary action by student councils.

The student governing body in a special meeting Thursday night said students, and not the deans, should have complete disciplinary control.

Looking at Hollywood
By HEDDA HOPPER

ANN-MARGRET WILL PLAY SHADY LADY IN WESTERN HOLLYWOOD — You can't keep a good man down, and Marty Rackin bounced like a rubber ball after leaving Paramount. Very quietly he got the world rights to that classic western, "Stagecoach," and will remake the picture in big screen and color for his own company at Twentieth Century-Fox. Joe Landon, who scripted "Rio Conchos," will do the screenplay and Gordon Douglas will direct. And now hear this, Ann-Margret plays Dallas, the shady lady who gets run out of town. Rackin hasn't cast the part of Ringo. He said: "I'm not sure whether I'll go with a big name or taken an unknown and make myself a star. In the first movie, John Ford tested two fellows. One of them talked back to him, so he took the other. The guy who sassed Mr. Ford was Bruce Cabot. The one who got it was John Morrison. better known as Duke Wayne."

Speaking of Ford, he celebrated another birthday (his 70th) with the same crew, all born on his day: Mrs. Harry Carey, her grandson, Joanne Dru, and Ford's grandson, Timmy. Next year he can include Grace Kelly's new daughter.

It's good news that Bob Hope will make his 11th appearance as emcee of the Academy show. The Oscar is the only award Bob's never won. Walt Disney has 29; Walter Brennan 3. Bing Crosby got one for "Going My Way." Even Gene Autry was up for one in 1941 for the song, "Be Honest with Me." He got beat out by Jerome Kern and Oscar Hammerstein for "Last Time I Saw Paris." Only once have the male and female stars of the same picture won — Clark Gable and Claudette Colbert in "It Happened One Night," in 1934. Gable didn't get it for "Gone with the Wind" — Robert Donat stole it for "Goodbye, Mr. Chips."

Robert Morse plays Roz Russell's son in "Poor Dad." He was first choice for the stage play but chose Hollywood instead. Barbara Harris, who originated the role of the daughter in New York, is most likely to repeat on screen. Roz may add a third picture to her list this year — "Never Too Late," opposite Paul Ford.

If I were a glamor girl, I'd start picketing. Not only are all the best movies written for males, but now the fellows have taken over the bathing scenes. Used to be a girl could at least look forward to stealing a scene in a bubble bath, but no more. In "Cincinnati Kid" Steve McQueen leaves Ann-Margret and Tuesday Weld high and dry while he splashes. And Elizabeth Ashley steps aside while "Third Day."

Dean Martin's lovely daughter, Claudia, and Doris Day's son, Terry Melcher, have set the date. They'll be married April 3 — and celebrate Doris' anniversary the same day.

Mrs. Reese Taylor never stops working for our zoo. She's looking for an angel to buy the only white tiger in captivity. The going price — $100,000. She's also putting the bite on Jack Benny for two baby gorillas. If he succumbs, she'll name them Jack and Mary. She should contact John Huston who has enough animals to start a zoo in the Noah's ark set in Rome. He's about to loose his head sticks it in the mouth of a hippo, and an elephant has fallen in love with him. He'll take it home to Ireland when the picture ends.

Things Could Have Been Worse in Viet Attack

PLEIKU, South Viet Nam (AP) — Things were bad at Pleiku, but they probably would have been much worse if Spec. 5 Jesse A. Pyle hadn't been alert. Pyle apparently heard noises from Marina, Calif., was on duty early Sunday at a listening post a few yards from the American senior officers' quarters at the Pleiku air base.

Pyle apparently heard noises after Viet Cong infiltrators slipped past South Vietnamese guards outside the compound. The sentry surprised the guerrillas as they were planting explosive charges and began firing.

The guerrillas immediately detonated their charges, and Pyle caught the full blast of one of the explosions. He died while being taken to the infirmary.

The Viet Cong followed up with a mortar attack. In all, eight Americans were killed and more than 100 wounded. U.S. officers said many more probably would have been killed if Pyle had not surprised the Communists before they had all their explosives in place.

"We were lucky, God, we were lucky," said a U.S. Army major who had been sleeping in the officers' quarters nearby.

Pyle was married to a Korean he met in 1952 while he was fighting the Communists there. They have three daughters, aged 11, 6 and 2. Pyle was transferred to Viet Nam last November from Ft. Ord, Calif. His family remained at home in Marina, near Ft. Ord. Mrs. Pyle wept at the news.

Bill Mauldin, the GI cartoonist of World War II, was visiting his son at Pleiku when the Communists attacked. The son,

Bruce, 22, is a helicopter pilot. "This thing woke me up about 2 a.m.," the cartoonist reported. "Col. Hughes (Lt. Col. John C. Hughes of Herrin, Ill.) dashed out to go to work, and I dashed out to take care of myself."

"I ran out the back door and found an American soldier badly wounded by mortar fragments. I tried to help this kid who was hit to get to my cot until the barrage ended. I assumed I had the only casualty with me at the time. I called out for help in getting him to the infirmary."

"On the way, there was a big stream of wounded moving toward the infirmary, but everything was orderly, no panic or anything. We'd been hit very hard with a heavy, sudden barrage, but everyone was doing his job quietly and efficiently."

"The infirmary was a real charnel house. Everything was covered with blood. Half the medics were hurt themselves, but the work went on."

NEW LOOT—WIGS!

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Police were scratching their heads trying to figure out ways of tracing between $4,000 and $5,000 worth of hairpieces stolen from the Wig Studio owned by Jo Jo James. Burglars really got in his hair!

Wigs have become a hot burglary item, since they bear no serial numbers and can be fenced with little danger of ever being identified. They are easily handled, often being emptied into pillowcases and carried out like a bundle of laundry.

New Colorado Smelting Plant Being Proposed

DENVER (AP) — Possible location of a new smelting facility in western Colorado, using a process developed in England, was discussed today at the opening of the National Western Mining Conference.

Delegates expressed interest in a report prepared by the Area Redevelopment Administration concerning the new process and its adaption to this region.

The report said states in the Four Corners area produce 70 per cent of the copper, 26 per cent of the zinc and 27 per cent of the lead mined in the United States.

The ARA estimated the new smelting process blast furnace and accessory equipment would cost close to $16 million. It is known as the Imperial Smelting Process.

It estimated at more than $35 million the annual gross value of minerals that could be recovered at such a plant.

"To counter this high capital cost," the report said, "the ISP furnace is more efficient than any in its requirements of manpower and, moreover, is capable of producing a refined bullion in which are recovered copper, lead, gold and silver."

"The complex sulphide ores of Colorado, containing many minerals, including zinc, lead, copper, gold and silver, are therefore very amenable to refining in the ISP furnace."

The report said the smelting process could make possible "bulk concentrates of low cost gravity methods."

It said "if the ore is high grade, it can be accepted by the ISP unit without milling or concentration of any type. Savings of $2.50 per ton of ore mined would be possible in this latter case."

Among sites under consideration for the smelting facility are Glenwood Springs, Grand Junction, Leadville, Pueblo, Gilman and Ridgway.

The report said annual operating costs of the smelter would run between $5.3 million and $5.9 million. The complex would require nearly 400 employees and have an annual payroll of more than $2.3 million.

BRASILIA — Unemployment is increasing in Brazil.

Retired Mailman Gives Fortune To Libraries

By JOHN SHEPPARD
CADIZ, Ohio (AP) — A retired rural mail carrier gave a $258,447 inheritance to two village school libraries because, he said Friday, "It was the honorable thing to do."

The money in securities was left to Thomas W. Barr, 69, by his bachelor brother who got rich in the stock market. Few of their farm neighbors knew about the fortune.

Barr was rummaging recently through some old letters when he found a note in which his brother said he'd like to help out the village school children with his money.

The brother, Harry, 76, was killed in September 1963 when his pickup truck plunged down an embankment in a rural area near his home in this eastern Ohio community.

Harry, who got interested in the stock market in 1949, left no will. He invested money he made farming and selling horses, and his diversified securities holdings included many blue-chip stocks.

The brothers worked their 280-acre farm in rural Jewett together since the turn of the century.

Thomas retired in 1959, ending a 30-year postal career.

IT IS HAY!

MANDAN, N.D. (AP) — Kenneth Lohstetter reported to the sheriff's office the theft of 75 bales of hay from his farm north of here. The value was placed at about $40.

of about $256 a month, Barr lives on the farm with his wife. They have no children.

"A judge and five attorneys told me I didn't have to do what I did," said Barr. "They even gave me thunder for selling some of my own stocks to pay off $54,000 toward settling the estate."

"Of course, that's money down the drain now. I'm not going to worry about it."

"Once in a while I get into a hole but I'll work things out." He gave the money to the Jewett and Scio school systems whose enrollments total 1,107 pupils. A fund in memory of Harry Barr will be established and is expected to provide an estimated $5,000 a year income.

Civic Players Hit Special Spot With 'Little Sheba'

By JOHN FETLER
Arts Critic

In the long list of successful plays produced by the Civic Players under the direction of Orvis Groat, "Come Back, Little Sheba" surely holds a special spot.

It is entertaining and amusing. But more than that, it produces a strong impact. The reaction of the audience seems to be more than usually profound, both because of the story, as well as because of the unusually strong characterizations achieved in this play, in which an interpretation "in depth" is added to that of the popularity of the Broadway vehicle, under Groat's as-usual superb direction.

The story, of course, is a classic of the theatre by now, and as the brief program note explains: "Based on a deadly parallel. It has to do with a chiropractor who had to quit medical school and marry the girl. The constant realization of what he might have been rakes to the extent of driving him into occasional binges and the arms of AA. To make ends meet, his frowsy wife takes in a boarder. Complications ensue."

But actually, the burden of the play revolves itself around the attitudes which the characters have not simply for each other, but towards themselves, and it is a mark of the modern fictional requirement that, as the program note explains, "the wife, who has been living in the past, who has been calling to Little Sheba, a lost puppy, finally decides to begin living in the present and future." And, one might add, the husband, too.

So that, in psychological terms, the story is about "what might have been," leading to "what is" and "what will be." Fortunately, the psychological interpretation is treated with a light, humorous bounce, or with nostalgic pathos, so that even the "ineffectual wife" comes up with gems of wisdom unwittingly, yet serving the psychological transformation which insures a happier ending than the beginning.

In this regard, at least, one could classify this comedy-drama a kind of "slice of life" genre which has retained its popularity ever since the Hellenistic period, and which, in its modern dress serves not only as a highly amusing evening at the theatre, but as a cathartic actorizations consists of Wayne morality play as well, although the word "morality" may not be as popular as "psychological."

The first-rank cluster of characterizations consists of Wayne Roper, in the role of Doc; Pat Bartholomew in the role of Doc's wife Lola; and Adrienne Zech in the role of Marie, the lovely blonde boarder who evokes in both husband and wife the nostalgia for a past that might have been.

Roper plays his role with unusual gusto, to which, however, is added a brooding quality and a thoughtfulness, so that it results in a well-rounded, characterization.

Pat Berthrong surely has one of her most sterling roles in her interpretation of "Baby," the wife, which starts out with a number of stage mannerisms so amusing that the good ladies of the audience can hardly avoid chuckling with tremendous amusement; and this is all the more important since the characterization of Pat Berthrong leads into deeper waters.

Adrienne Zech plays the part of the pert blonde as a perfect counter-foil with the sophisticated innocence required in the role of a college girl who plays the field while waiting for her fiancé, by mutual agreement. This creates in the feelings of her hosts a "moral" dilemma, turning out to be actually a psychological one to delight a Freud or Jung, at least, providing the externalization of their personal conflicts which leads to the catharsis and solution.

Somewhat of an amusing shock effect is provided by the appearance of Don Drury in the role of Turk, one of the young girl's boy friends, who poses as an artist's model in his track trunks; a moment which, however, also prepares the audience for the depending impact of the play's drama, and thus serves a solid dramatic purpose.

Then, with the usual competence which Groat always elicits from his actors, there's the postman, played by Harry Herlinger; Mrs. Coffman, a delightful, busy, well-meaning neighbor played by Barbara Pennington; a young physical-culturist milkman played by Gary Loo; the other young boy friend of the blonde, called Bruce, played crisply by Jim Justis; and two AA men: Ed, played by Wolfram Sommer; and Jim, played by Willis Benton.

Dr. J. B. Rhine To Speak on ESP On SCSC Campus

Dr. J. B. Rhine, well-known researcher in the field of extra sensory perception, will lecture on the Southern Colorado State College campus at 8 p.m. Friday in the College Center ballroom.

Dr. Rhine's lecture titled, "Parapsychology and the Nature of Man," will be presented as one feature of SCSC's concert and lecture series for the year.

The lecture is open to the public without charge. However, SCSC students and faculty will be admitted to the ballroom, on presentation of their activity tickets, until 7:45 p.m., after which time other patrons will be admitted.

A former professor of psychology at Duke University, Dr. Rhine is recognized in scholarly circles the world over for his pioneering researches in the field of extra sensory perception and related powers.

Together with his scientist wife, Dr. Louisa E. Rhine, he began exploring the claims of "physical research" looking for a scientific approach to its problems while at Duke University. The research included the developing of reliable methods of testing telepathy, clairvoyance and the related claims of "Psi Ability," as these psychic powers came to be called.

Dr. Rhine's lecture will illustrate how he has worked in scientific areas of parapsychology which, as he said, "at first we make fun of it, then we try to make sense of it and finally we try to make use of it." Men have always sought for laws behind their mysteries, thus emerges their physical sciences and the sciences of life. The great mysterious challenges of the mind remain and in fact nature of man himself still is shrouded. It is in this area of scientific research that Dr. Rhine has excelled.

Dr. Rhine's first book, "Extra Sensory Perception" was published in 1934. It created a furor of excited interest and criticism. His next book, written for the public was "New Frontiers of the Mind." It became an immediate best seller and was a Book of the Month Club selection. A new book "ESP and the Nature of Man" now in preparation, is awaited with interest as Dr. Rhine's most important to date.

SECTION B

Man Ready for Trial; Wife Complaining, Not in Court

Ivery Kimball, 27, 424 N. Corona St., was ready for trial Monday in Municipal Court but the complaining witness, his wife, was not in court.

When Judge Allan Asher asked Kimball where his wife was, the defendant said he didn't know.

"I came home the other night," he said, "and there was not any food cooked. When I asked her why, she said she wasn't my maid. She called me at work the next day and said, go find another maid, and I haven't seen her since."

On a motion by Deputy City Attorney Roger Hunt, the judge dismissed charges of riotous conduct and drunkenness against Kimball.

In a lengthy trial Monday, attorney William Carew charged that his client's constitutional rights had been violated, and his companion-attorney John Grindel hinted at police brutality.

The defendant was Dion Muse, 52, 812 E. Costilla St., who had been charged with resisting police by Patrolman John Clark on Jan. 14.

Clark testified that he noticed Muse's car driving in an erratic manner, and thinking the driver might be drunk, stopped the car. He said when he asked Muse for his drivers license, the man refused. He also said when he asked him to get out of his car, he refused. "I reached in and switched off the key," Clark said, "and he got out." He said he advised Muse then he was under arrest for drunken driving.

When he told Muse to place his hands on the cruiser to be searched, Clark said Muse kept putting his hands down, and then doubled up his fist "apparently to hit me."

"What did you do?" Grindel asked. "I hit him," Clark said. "Where?" Grindel asked. "In the mouth," Clark said. Grindel had Clark give his age (33) and his weight (190) and then said: "You knew he was a small, aged, sick and feeble man three times your age, didn't you?" Hunt objected. Grindel withdrew the question.

"You've been trained to hit a drunk in the mouth?" Grindel asked. "Yes," Clark said, "and I'd do it again."

"And the next time you see a sick, drunk, old man, you'll hit him in the mouth?" Grindel asked. Hunt objected. Grindel withdrew the question.

"Are you worried about a lawsuit because you injured him?" Grindel asked. Hunt objected. Grindel withdrew the question. Carew motioned for dismissal, partly because he said Muse's constitutional rights had been violated.

The motion was denied. Muse testified his "dignity was insulted" by the manner in which the officers were searching him "like I was a criminal." He also said Clark did not tell him he was under arrest for drunken driving.

Patrolman Steve Puzick testified that Muse's actions indicated he was aggressive.

When Grindel asked if it was customary to "shakedown" drivers the patrolman said it was, if it appeared they were drunk. "Do you always do this?" Grindel asked. Puzick said he hadn't the last time he'd stopped a driver, because it was a woman.

He also said he saw Muse draw up his fist.

"Would you have hit him," Grindel asked, "or try to stop him by putting your hands up?" "I would have hit him," Puzick said.

"I'll remember that," Grindel said.

Judge Asher said any drinking driver is a potential danger to policemen or the public in general, and the patrolmen had sufficient reason to treat Muse in the manner they had used. He also said Muse was not an object of "pity or charity" and said he was capable of doing anything.

He found Muse guilty, levied a $25 fine, and granted the attorneys a 10-day stay of execution.

Harry Honeycutt, 53, 1422 Langmeyer St., was found guilty of breach of peace, was fined $100, and granted a 30-day stay of execution. He was represented by attorney Allen Compton.

Complaints Ethel Watson and Joseph Brooks had signed against each other were dismissed at their requests. Mrs. Watson, 36, 417 S. Institute St., was charged with riotous conduct and breach of peace, and Brooks, 31, 522 E. Moreno St., with those charges and injury to private property.

Charles Perry, 39, 3 1/2 E. Colorado Ave., did not appear for his trial on charges of riotous conduct, breach of peace and drunkenness, and his $50 bond was ordered forfeited.

Arthur Maes, 37, 618 S. Weber St., was found guilty of being drunk and was fined $25. Eturbide Sanchez, 80, 2423 W. Kioea St., was found guilty of breach of peace but his $25 fine was suspended. He was represented by attorney Richard Webster.

Charges of riotous conduct and drunkenness against John Bittle, 31, 1525 S. Nevada Ave., were dismissed on a request by the man's wife.

Sarchie Sullivan Found Dead of Gun Shot Wound

Sarchie Sullivan of the Lytle Star Route was found dead at the J. and L. Ranch Monday afternoon, the sheriff's office reported.

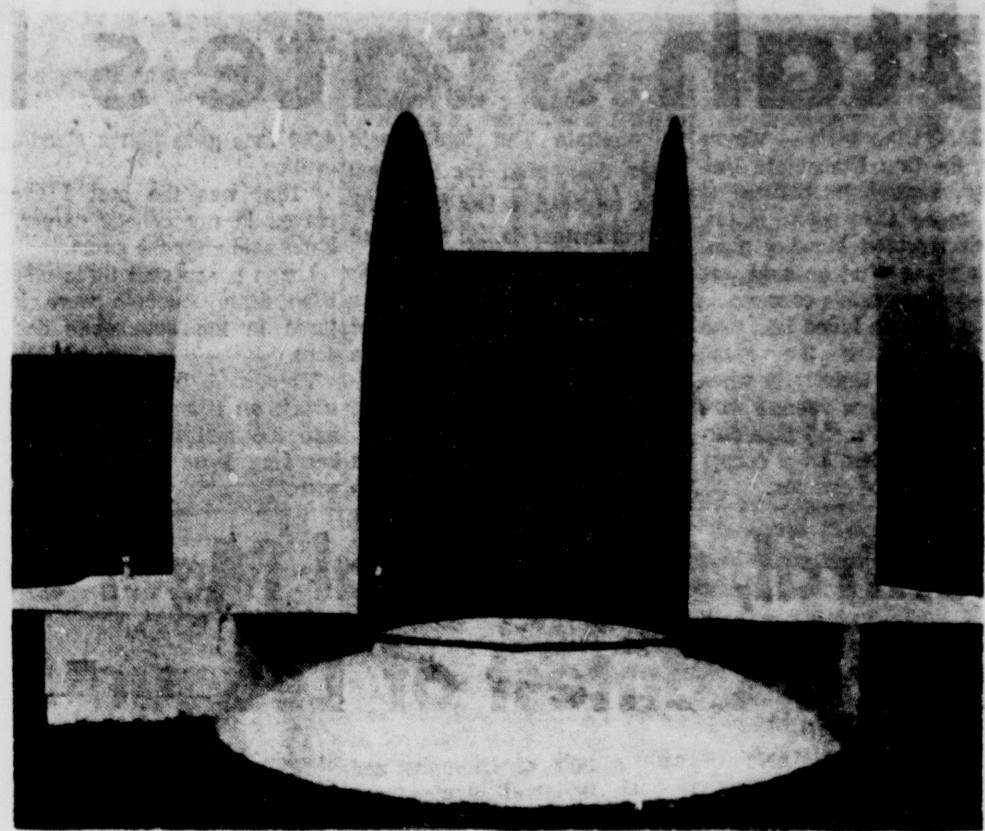

According to Deputy Woodrow Littrell the body was on a divan in the living room and death was caused by a gun shot wound. Littrell also said that Mr. Sullivan had been despondent from some time.

The dead man was the father of Sheriff Earl L. Sullivan.

Dog Reported Poisoned in Area

Verle Titus, 2415 Wheeler St. reported to the sheriff's office Monday that his dog had been poisoned.

He said the animal was tied to a chain next to his home and the veterinarian told him food poisoning was the cause of death.

Eight hours of mission work are assigned the camera each week as it tracks more than 400 man-made objects orbiting the earth. Consisting of 25 telescopes, it works on the same principle as the eye of a fly, made up of hundreds of individual facets. (USAF Photo)

ADC Facet Eye Camera Views Orbiting Objects

At Holloman AFB in New Mexico's Tularos desert basin there is an observatory which has as one of its assigned functions the gathering of photo-optical data on orbiting satellites for the USAF Air Defense Command with headquarters at Ent Air Force Base. A camera that works like the eye-of-a-fly is used to record the satellite activity.

The facility belongs to the Air Force Systems Command's Missile Development Center and the equipment used for satellite surveillance is called the Facet Eye Camera.

The responsibility for keeping track of more than 400 man-made objects orbiting the earth belongs to the Air Defense Command's 9th Aerospace Defense Division.

To carry out the function of maintaining an accurate up-to-the-minute log of satellite activity at the Spacetrack Center in Colorado Springs, a network of detectors and sensors, scattered around the world, is required.

Most of the 5,600 observations received daily at the Spacetrack Center come from Air Defense Command facilities operating around the clock.

Additional data regarding the man-generated activity in space is assigned to specialized facilities such as the photo-optical Facet Eye Camera at Holloman.

A working agreement initiated between the Air Defense Command and the Systems Command in May, 1963, calls for eight hours of mission work each week with the Facet Eye Camera. Assignments to be performed are made each month by the Spacetrack Center concerning specifically known satellites.

Consisting of 25 telescopes, each with its own image orthicon sensing tube, the Facet Eye Camera works on the same principle as the eye of a fly, made up of hundreds of individual facets.

This, with its 25 individual facets arranged in five rows, the Facet Eye Camera has a viewing field of 2 1/2 degrees by 7 degrees which is large enough to provide photo-optical data of space activity.

To gather data on assigned satellites, the camera is positioned at the proper angle in relation to the known path of the moving object and known stars.

At the moment the satellite enters the camera's field of view, a time exposure photograph of the image displayed on the TV monitors is made. When developed, the photo shows the satellite as a streak which can be compared with the known star background and analyzed.

The Facet Eye Camera's Photo-optical recording of satellites and other space vehicles falls into four areas: precise positional photography, resulting in accurate time and position information; object configuration and surface detail photography; tumbling rates and variation of luminous intensity; and spectro-photometric recording.

To perform these tasks a high degree of sensitivity is required to distinguish the reflected light from objects. This, photo-optical devices, recording reflections from distant objects of relatively small size, are normally restricted to night operations.

It is during the dark hours on earth that orbiting objects reflect light from the sun which can be best distinguished by devices such as the Facet Eye Camera.

Improvements in the camera are expected for the next year when fewer and more refined equipment is installed, according to Walter Woehl, Missile Development Center scientist in charge of the Facet Eye operation (and inventor of the camera). With increased capabilities, the Holloman facility will be able to provide even more accurate satellite data to the Air Defense Command's Space-track Center.

Boy Scout Week Activities Start at Canon

Boy Scout Week in Canon City has started out with a flurry of activity. Charles McCasland, chairman of the Royal Gorge District, has announced.

McCasland noted that the 55th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America, got underway Scout Sunday, Feb. 7, and will continue throughout the week.

On Sunday, several troops in the district attended church services, and three Cub Scouts were presented the Parvuli Dei, the Catholic religious award in a special ceremony at St. Michael's Church. Receiving the honor were Richard Kurelich, Stanley Javernick and Gary Schweiteman.

The Rev. Bonaventure Bandi, pastor of the church, made the presentations, assisted by the Rev. Lloyd Sparks, pastor of the First Christian Church, sponsor of the boys' Cub pack, 120C.

During services at the First United Presbyterian Church, Troop 116, sponsored by the church, was presented its charter by District Commissioner Chauncey Ferguson of Florence.

Accepting the charter for the church and troop was Lloyd Shonyo Jr., institutional representative who in turn presented the charter to Howard Mann, scoutmaster.

On Sunday afternoon, more than 200 Scouters and visitors attended the second annual Royal Gorge Boy Scout District reception held in the Fremont County Courthouse in Canon City.

Serving as hosts were McCasland and John Powhida, former chairman of the Royal Gorge District Committee.

Monday night, Feb. 8, Bobby Uhlenhopp of Troop 116 was scheduled to be presented his Eagle badge at a family night court of honor to be held at the First United Presbyterian Church.

Also Monday evening, the district committee was scheduled to meet at the First Savings and Loan Association of Pueblo, Canon City branch.

McCasland reported that other activities are scheduled during the week, including show window displays, special programs, and a roundtable meeting for Scouts at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Lincoln School.

Census Bureau To Interview Local Families

Mrs. Donna M. Binkley, Census Bureau interviewer, will visit local families this month to obtain information on the arrangements made by working mothers in the U.S. for the care of their children. Francis H. Wilmer, Denver Bureau of Census, announced that this information is for the Bureau of the Census February Current Population Survey.

The questions on child care will supplement the regular monthly inquiries on employment obtained for the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The information will be collected during the work week starting next Monday on selected households in this area as well as other sample areas throughout the U.S.

The child care survey, which is the first made since 1958, is sponsored jointly by the Children's Bureau of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare and the Women's Bureau of the Department of Labor. Working mothers in the survey will be asked for such information as: Who usually looks after your child while you are working? How old is the person who does your baby sitting? How many hours a week was the child cared for under this arrangement? Did the arrangement cover all the time you were away at work? If not, who looked after the child the rest of the time. How much did you pay for the care of the child?

Utah State's Estes Electrocuted

2-B—Gazette Telegraph Tuesday, Feb. 9, 1965
Colorado Springs, Colo.

LOGAN, Utah (AP) — Wayne Estes, the first Utah State University basketball player to score more than 2,000 points, was electrocuted Monday night after playing what he said was the best game of his career.

Estes, 21, was killed less than two hours after the game against Denver University when he grabbed a high voltage wire knocked from a metal pole during a car accident on a corner of the Utah State campus.

Teammate Tim Smith said Estes discovered the accident as he returned on foot from calling his mother to tell her about the game in which he set an Aggie home-court record.

Estes, a 6-foot-6 senior, scored 45 points to lead Utah State to a 91-62 victory over Denver University, boosting his college career to 2,001 points.

Aggie Coach Ladell Anderson called time out while more than 4,000 fans gave him a standing ovation.

Police Chief Eli Drakulich said an ambulance had removed the three students when Estes found the accident.

Drakulich said attendants from a second ambulance attempted for a half-hour to revive the basketball star. He was pronounced dead at the scene.

Estes, who wanted to play professionally, has said he received encouragement from several pro basketball clubs. He was the nation's second leading major college scorer this season behind Rick Barry of Miami, Fla. A forward, Estes was averaging 32.7 points through games of Jan. 30. He finished 10th in scoring last season with a 28.3 mark.

Before coming to Utah State, Estes also was a star football and track performer in high school in Anaconda, Mont., his home town.

Central, Centennial Meet Saturday In Top Contest of League Season

By TOM CUSHMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer
Colorado Springs makes a concentrated attack on Pueblo's basketball fortress Friday night, and for the two local schools it could prove a last ditch stand.

Palmer and Wesson assault the Steel City Friday for a pair of contests with the league leaders — and it will be one of those ticklish arrangements where no one can afford to lose. A defeat for either of the local clubs would just about complete the job of eliminating them from the race.

Should the Thunderbirds upset Centennial, their Friday foe, it could mean the end of their title hopes for the second place Bulldogs. Or if Palmer can get to Central in the nightcap, it could mean a new start on this year's SCL race.

The significance of the Friday twin bill is underlined by the fact that several hours later Centennial and Central will be squaring off in what may prove the most crucial single contest of the campaign. If both get by their Friday starts, as they will be favored to do, that 2:30 p.m. Saturday struggle will decide whether or not there will be an SCL race after this weekend.

Central, unbeaten in league play and appearing more formidable every weekend, could almost start polishing the trophy with a sweep of the Friday and Saturday starts. Such a feat would give the Wildcats at least a two game lead with four to play. Two of those final starts will be against the league tailenders and all will be on the Pueblo floor.

Centennial, on the other hand, could create a jam at the top with a pair of triumphs and set up a torrid stretch run. The Bulldogs are the only team this season to defeat Central, but that feat was unfortunately recorded in the finals of a pre-conference tournament and is not reflected in the league standings. Central got the one that counted, a 58-51 decision over Centennial in early January. The Bulldogs are still simmering over that setback, too, since they led nearly the entire contest before failing apart before a Central rush in the final minutes.

That may have been Centennial's best chance because the young Central team has been showing signs of jelling into a unit that may simply be too good for the rest of the SCL members. The Wildcats, with two sophomores and a junior in the starting lineup, were error-prone early in the campaign but many of those miscues are being eliminated as the experience comes for the younger players.

Central's first four league victories were by tight margins and the Cats appeared vulnerable, but the turning point appeared to arrive last weekend. There was nothing bashful about the crushing defeats handed Wesson and Pueblo South as the defending champions completed their first round work.

The Wildcats looped a tight noose of zone defense around the erratic Wesson team and had the Thunderbirds sacked up before halftime. The following night they punished South with a blistering running game that had the Colts 30 points in arrears by early in the second half. Dan Kochevar had 20 points in the Friday night win at Colorado Springs and sophomore Terry Snider led the Saturday attack with 22. Wesson got 11 from Mike Martin and Randy

Panthers Return To League Action

By CHARLIE DREUX
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer
After a week's rest from Will Rogers League competition, Harrison's Panthers return to conference action this weekend and the towering cagers can clinch a tie for the WRL championship with a victory over winless Canon City, Friday night.

The Panthers leave their home nest to tangle with the Tigers at the Canon City Gymnasium. If the undefeated Panthers dump Canon City for their sixth straight league victory, they could drop the next two games to Widefield (Feb. 19) and Air Academy High (Feb. 26) and still clinch a tie for the title.

In other WRL action Friday, improved Widefield takes on Cheyenne Mountain at the latter's team home court. Academy High journeys north to tangle with Denver Christian in non-conference play that night.

Saturday's agenda calls for only one game. The Gladiators are the guests of Fountain in a non-loop play.

The fact that Harrison could clinch the WRL title, Friday's slate will be highlighted by the Widefield-Cheyenne game and will undoubtedly draw a larger crowd.

Under the new management of head coach Gary Richardson, who took over the coaching job at Widefield last December, the Gladiators have made a remarkable recovery from a losing slump. Widefield's fired-up cagers proved themselves last week when dumped the then-top challengers from Academy High in an upset 74-72 decision.

The Widefield-Academy High game capped the Gladiators two-game sweep, after they dropped three WRL outings by only a total of six points.

Richardson's charges proved they were capable of scoring in addition to their effective defensive endeavors last Friday. The Gladiators jumped to a commanding lead in the first half. Dave Smedsrud paced Widefield's 31-point scoring spree in the second period.

Smedsrud poured in 19 points in that period and finished with 28 points to pace the Gladiators. Academy High's ace gunner, Bert Spear, turned in a brilliant performance hitting the nets for 36 points, which established a WRL single game scoring record, including seven points in the last two minutes of play.

Spear shot a whopping 65.4 percent from the field, hitting 17 of 26 field goal attempts.

In other games last weekend, Harrison turned back Pueblo County's stall-and-run tactics to post its 11th victory of the season, 41-33; Cheyenne dumped Canon City in WRL play, 75-48.

Palmer's second goal of the period. He broke along the left boards, then slapped his shot from 25 feet out. The puck glanced off Smith's right thigh close to the post.

Jayhawks, Buffs Gain Big 8 Wins

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG

Kansas spoiled Missouri's perfect home court record 71-60 behind Walt Wesley's 34 points and Colorado edged luckless Oklahoma 57-55 at Boulder Monday night. Both moved closer to Big Eight leader Oklahoma State.

The Jayhawks and the 6-foot-11 Wesley were impressive in running their record to 5-3. Colorado stayed in second at 5-2 on a goal by Chuck Gardner with five seconds left. The Buffaloes had a cold shooting night but managed to make the big plays against the determined Sooners.

Oklahoma State, 6-1, plays next at Kansas State Saturday night.

K-State meets last-place Nebraska tonight at Manhattan in the only Big Eight game. The Wildcats will be without top scorer Jeff Simmons again, but will be favored to win and make their record 4-3.

Missouri, upset winner over Oklahoma State in Columbia last Saturday, appeared tired part of the time. Kansas made things worse, though, with a half-court press. Missouri's faint title hopes took a bad blow. Bob Vannatta's Tiger's dropped to 3-4 in league play.

Wesley hit 14 of 17 field shots and six of eight free throws. His stand-in, 6-7 senior Jim Gough, got six quick points late in the first half, running a three-point edge into a 36-26 halftime bulge.

Kansas ran its lead to 51-37 before Missouri rallied within seven points with Wesley benched with four fouls. Wesley returned and got a quick goal. The Tigers moved within seven points, 54-47 but Wesley got his team's next 11 points before fouling out with 3:38 left and KU ahead 65-53.

George Flammank, with 19 points and 15 rebounds, led the MU comeback. Al Lopes, 6-5 Jayhawk, got 14 points and held down MU's Gary Garner in the last half.

Kansas hit 50 per cent from the field, Missouri 38. The Jayhawks hit their first 15 free throws while MU was cold at the line.

La Junta's Tigers wrapped up the Southern League Championship last week. The Tigers defeated Alamosa, 65-59, last Friday to clinch the title and registered their eighth straight loop victory. La Junta has two games to conclude their league slate against Pueblo County and Lamar. But those two games will be anticlimactic for the Tigers with the league championship already in the bag.

In overall competition, the Tigers are 13-1. They lost that single outing to Lamar in a holiday tournament last December by a one-point margin of 64-63 in the last three seconds of play.

Eddie Martin, who was the leading State AAA scorer for three straight weeks prior to last Friday's game against Alamosa via a 25.7 average, also was the leading scorer in the Southern League with a 27.1 point average. The high scoring La Junta forward is considered one of the finest in the state.

Prior to the Alamosa game, the Tigers averaged 73 points and held their seven opponents to 54.6 points.

... And Now Golf

Boxing, baseball, football — and now golf — one by one they are falling into the trap of television's get-rich-quick confidence game and they have proven without a doubt that the Big Eye is the self-proclaimed Commissioner of All Sports.

Perhaps the stodgiest of all groups controlling sports, the U.S. Golf Association, and the least likely to bend their rules for any reason, was the latest to be lured by the sign of the mighty dollar.

Most certainly, there were other reasons included in the USGA's recent announcement, but it boils down to the convenience of the TV camera as the only really logical explanation for the change in format of two of the country's top tournaments.

Starting this summer, the USGA Amateur Championship will now be decided over 72 holes of stroke (medal) play instead of the match play which has been used since the tournament's inception in 1895. In addition, the USGA Open Championship will stretch out its final round over two days instead of playing 36 holes in one day as in the past.

They might as well have also announced the Executive Director Joe Dey is being replaced by a combined committee of the program directors of the three major networks — now that the door has been opened, you can bet they are the ones who will be dictating the policies all down the line from now on.

In both cases, it's obvious that bankbook pressure was brought to bear in order to force these changes. And since the USGA has never been one to turn down an extra slice of profits from any source, I suppose it's understandable that mere tradition and merits of the past form should stand in the way of the view of the lens.

In their original formats, these tournaments were all but impossible to capture even with all the "miracles" of this age of electronics. The Amateur, over a possible 36-hole route of match play, could finish on any hole and it would be prohibitive to set up enough camera stations to catch the climax. Timing of the Open was the main problem, since the gruelling grind of the 36-hole finals would make the finish too late for the prime viewing from the living-room, and Sunday's parlor fans were completely left out.

The change of the Open, eliminating the unique 36-hole finish, was the first to come under fire from some of those most closely associated with the sport.

"It's like reducing a championship prize fight from 15 to 10 rounds," said outspoken Gene Sarazen this past week. "I feel the final day, the 36-hole grind in the Open, was one of the great moments of the game."

"This was a great test of skill and stamina and that's why the Open championship has always been the tremendous event it has been," Sarazen said on a visit to Denver shortly after the USGA announced the switch for this year.

As one of the past headliners of the game, Sarazen speaks with authority. He has won the Open twice, the PGA three times and also the British Open, the Masters and the PGA Seniors. He also knows what he's talking about when it comes to the incentive for the change — Sarazen himself is host to one of those weekly TV golf shows that are staged with golf spent per hole, and a few minutes to deposit the check.

The only reason listed by the USGA for the two-day finals instead of one was the time factor of getting the field off the course in daylight hours. They also cited the "undue burden" on the players of having to spend eight hours with a club in hand.

They could have done more service to the sport by trying to speed up play — not only in tournaments like this but also for the weekend duffer who copies the mail's pace of the pros.

Monday, one of this nation's real pioneers of the game, Chick Evans, let loose another salvo at the USGA for discarding match play for the National Amateur as he decried "the drift to the slimgy dollar, particularly the TV dollar."

Clay-Liston Bout Set for May or June

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — Will Cassius make hay with Sonny in May?

Or will Clay as soon meet Liston in June?

That's the extent of the rhyme.

There was none but a perfunctory reason for a news conference Monday announcing the medical go-ahead for the heavy-weight champion to resume training for his delayed title defense.

The scheduled Nov. 16, 1964, fight, postponed when Clay underwent emergency Friday-the-13th surgery for a hernia, likely will be at Boston Garden on a Monday night between May 10 and June 7.

Anyone who saw Cassius huddling over the top rope at Madison Square Garden a week ago to congratulate Floyd Patterson on his victory over George Chuvalo knew then The Mouth's lower abdomen was A-O-K.

In order to underscore his comeback from the scalpel, the champion shadow-boxed four rounds in street clothes with heavyweight Tom McNeely at a local gym Monday after he was pronounced fit.

While the Intercontinental Promotions, Inc., folks turned various shades of fright, Cassius also punched the heavy and light bags bare-handed.

After expressing relief that a Denver jury recently acquitted Sonny Liston of a drunken driving charge, Clay started his ticket-selling war by commenting:

"For a man who never gets knocked down, Liston sure gets picked up a lot, doesn't he?"

Dr. William McDermott, the surgeon in charge of Clay's case, termed the champ's condition "excellent" and said "at this point he may resume all activities including heavy exercise and strenuous training."

Harold Conrad of Intercontinental said the target date for the fight is May 10. Clay wondered if it might not take as many as four months to get ready, recalling he has promised a special exhibition for a Negro businessmen's cause in Chicago Feb. 27.

Manager Angelo Dundee said it was impossible to tell how long it will take Clay to get ready.

The conclusion was the fight would be held in from three to four months from now, and for the availability of the maximum number of buildings for closed circuit TV, Monday almost certainly will be the night.

"I've got a real opponent coming after the Bear — the Hare," said Clay who refers to Liston as the Bear and calls Patterson the Rabbit.

"I'm not underestimating Liston," said Clay. "I'm not just going to beat Liston. I'm going to get really ready."

"But I'm looking for the next opponent. After Liston, Patterson's about the only one left...."

"But it'll be next year. No sense fighting a $10 million fight with Patterson and getting nothing for it."

Top-Ranked Michigan Derails Upstart Iowa; Mountaineers Suffer Setback

By MURRAY CHASS

Michigan, the nation's No. 1 college basketball team, has deflated upstart Iowa while fifth-ranked Davidson has shattered West Virginia's streak-stopping stunt.

Michigan, 14-2, whipped Iowa 81-66 Monday night only hours after the Wolverines again had been voted the top team in the country in the Associated Press poll.

Three other members of the Top Ten — Seventh-ranked Vanderbilt, eighth-ranked Indiana and Illinois, No. 10 — won, but Wichita, No. 9, was upset by Duquesne 75-72.

Michigan extended its Big Ten record to 6-0 by stopping Iowa, a stubborn team that went into the crucial contest already having achieved three major conquests.

The Hawkeyes knocked off Minnesota 76-74, Indiana 74-68 and UCLA 87-82, each team having only one other defeat at the time. All three also were ranked in the Top Ten with UCLA falling from the No. 1 spot because of the loss 10 days ago.

But Michigan made sure it would not be the next victim by scoring 19 straight points midway through the first half and keeping the Hawkeyes scoreless for eight minutes 14 seconds. That combination erased an early Iowa lead.

Cazzie Russell and Bill Buntin, the Wolverines' dreaded duo, tallied 19 points each. Gerry Jones, a high school teammate of Russell, led Iowa with 26 points, 17 in the second half.

Davidson went into its game with the Mountaineers well aware of the outcome of the teams' second meeting last season. West Virginia won that one 75-73, ending the Wildcats' unbeaten string at 15 games.

But Davidson's sizzling shooting, sparked by Fred Hetzel, completely overwhelmed the Southern Conference foe. The Wildcats connected on 33.9 percent of their shots from the field with Hetzel pouring in 34.

The Davidson ace singlehandedly put the game out of the Mountaineers' reach, hitting nine consecutive shots, seven of them uninterrupted by a West Virginia score.

Wichita dropped its fourth game in 18 starts after leading by 10 points with 13:15 to play. But Duquesne, which held a 36-34 halftime advantage, charged back and went ahead to stay 68-68 on Frank Miniotas' lay up with 2:18 left.

Vanderbilt won its eighth straight Southeastern Conference contest, 96-85 over Louisiana State while Indiana topped Michigan State 112-94 and Illinois swept by Ohio State 86-71.

Top ten teams not scheduled Monday were UCLA, No. 2; St. Joseph's, No. 3; Providence, No. 4, and Duke, No. 6.

Those four plus Michigan and Davidson retained their rankings from last week. Vanderbilt advanced two notches, Indiana and Wichita each slipped one and Illinois replaced San Francisco.

Michigan Retains Top Spot in Poll

By GEORGE C. LANGFORD
NEW YORK (UPI)—Michigan, UCLA and St. Joseph's (Pa.) remained one-two-three respectively in the weekly United Press International major college basketball ratings today, but the margins separating them continued to shrink.

Providence held down the fourth spot while only 12 points separated fifth-ranked Vanderbilt, the fastest rising team in the ratings, and eighth-ranked Wichita. Sandwiched between Vandy and Wichita were sixth-ranked Davidson, two points behind the Commodores, and seventh-ranked Duke, only four points behind Davidson.

The current ratings are based on games played through Saturday, Feb. 6.

Seldom has there been a tighter race among the top 10 teams in the 15-year history of the UPI ratings, which are determined by a vote of 35 coaches.

Indiana and Illinois, two Big Ten Conference foes, took over the ninth and 10th spots, respectively. Indiana ranked 10th last week and Illinois ranked 12th.

Michigan increased its number of first-place votes from 19 to 21, while UCLA lost two votes and slipped to 11 although the Bruins increased their number of rating points by seven to 320 and cut the Wolverines' lead from 14 points last week to 12.

St. Joseph's picked up another first-place vote, bringing its total to three and increased its point tally from 237 to 252.

Question of Cost Raised About Waterways

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's program to clean up the nation's waterways and air was greeted warmly in Congress today but some members raised the question of cost.

The far-flung proposals submitted to Congress in a special message Monday cut across the jurisdiction of several committees, one of which geared itself for prompt action.

Rep. George H. Fallon, D-Md., chairman of the House Public Works Committee, said he was "favorably disposed" toward the program and assumed much of it would come before his committee.

A sub-committee headed by Rep. John A. Blatnik, D-Minn., tentatively has scheduled hearings for next week on a water pollution bill already passed by the Senate. Fallon said the water easure may be made the vehicle for carrying other phases of the program.

Rep. William C. Cramer of Florida, senior Republican on Fallon's committee, wanted to know, "Where is the money coming from?"

While in sympathy with any program to beautify the nation, Cramer said, he wanted to know more about the details and whether the plans would involve federal control of waters now controlled by states and communities.

The President's program called for an assault on air and water pollution, establishment of more parks and recreation areas, beautification of the Potomac River, elimination or concealment of eyesores such as junkyards along national highways and establishment of a national wild rivers system.

Specific legislation dealing with many details of the program will be submitted later.

The President called for cooperation of local governments and business and private groups in the campaign to make the nation more beautiful.

"I am hopeful that we can summon such a national effort," he said, "for we have not chosen to have an ugly America. We have been careless and often neglectful."

He said he would call a White House conference on natural beauty to "produce new ideas and approaches for enhancing the beauty of America."

Nasser to Get Food After All, Solons Indicate

By GEOFFERY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has abandoned its insistence that the government end sales of surplus food to the United Arab Republic.

Last week the House supported 204 to 177 a Republican move to ban an estimated $37 million in food shipments under an agreement that ends June 30. The Senate, responding to pleas from the administration, voted to leave up to President Johnson whether to carry out the sales.

Monday the House voted 241 to 165 against a Republican effort to instruct House representatives on a joint conference committee to insist on the ban. This means the Senate view will prevail and the restriction will be eliminated in the final legislation.

The House had tacked the amendment onto a $1.6-billion supplemental farm appropriation bill in an effort to snub UAR President Gamal Abdel Nasser. All but $37 million of the $431.8 million in food which the United States had agreed to supply Nasser over a three-year period has already been sent to the UAR. He has told the United States, in effect, to take its aid and "go to hell."

In the original House vote, 74 Democrats lined up with the Republicans, disregarding pleas from House leaders that this would tie the President's hands in the conduct of foreign affairs. Monday only 37 Democrats voted with the Republicans.

Only one Republican, Rep. Ogden Reid of New York, switched to the Democratic side. Before his election to the House, Reid served as ambassador to Israel.

Many big city Democrats with sizable Jewish constituencies had voted for the anti-Nasser amendment last week.

Rep. Robert H. Michel, R-Ill., sponsor of the amendment, said, "I can't say I'm altogether surprised. We were aware that the old anti-twisting was going on."

The Senate added two controversial amendments to the money bill. One forbids spending any appropriated money to close down 11 veterans hospitals, 4 soldiers homes and merge 18 others. The other shuts off funds for the proposed economy closing of 29 agricultural research stations.

Senate and House conferees meet today to work out agreement on these amendments, both opposed by the administration.

Three Plead Guilty To Big Gem Theft

NEW YORK (AP) — Three Florida beach boys have pleaded guilty to last October's sensational jewel theft from the American Museum of Natural History.
Their guilty pleas Monday to the theft of the now recovered Star of India sapphire, the DeLong star ruby and other jewels, could bring each up to 21 years in prison.
Supreme Court Justice Mitchell D. Schweitzer put off sentencing for six weeks and there was speculation that some deal might still be in the works for the DeLong ruby, and 14 other stones still missing.
Jack (Murph the Surf) Murphy, 27; Allen Dale Kuhn, 26; and Roger F. Clark, 29, originally had pleaded innocent to charges of grand larceny, burglary and possession of burglary tools. They helped recover some of the loot weeks ago.

Dropouts at CC Show Increase

Dropouts of freshmen women at Colorado College increased 100 per cent last year, reports Dean of Women Christine S. Moon.
"The losses from the freshman class (women) increased from an average of three per cent over the past three years to six per cent withdrawals this year," Miss Moon said in the annual President's Report.

Part of her report was reprinted in the last issue of "The Tiger," the student newspaper.

Dean Moon's report also mentioned "... the lack of responsible editorship of the college newspaper and other editorial efforts which produced a lot of unrest and aimless fighting at windmills."

She also said the Student Council (ASCC) wanted to attract student support rather than accept "... the important role of leading and making difficult but sound decisions."

"Freshmen women reacted to these forces but had no effective way to counter them."

"This may not be fair to attribute the attrition in this segment of the student body (dropouts) to this alone, but I believe it was certainly an important element."

Miss Moon said that many colleges and universities are experiencing "... a soul searching period in terms of values and standards of conduct which we have experienced during the last two years."

"The 'testing of limits' by students in raising some pertinent and some impertinent questions has forced administrators to look at students more closely and try to understand how and when they became so different from other generations."

Eiffel Tower May Be Suicide Proof

PARIS, France (AP) — Authorities have moved to make the Eiffel Tower — one of the capital's foremost tourist attractions — suicide-proof.
Orders went out Monday to install a five-foot metal grille around the central well of the tower's first landing. Officials said the grille will be similar to one atop the Empire State Building in New York. In addition, parallel barriers will be installed at the railings of the second and third landings. Tower guards will patrol the landings.
Since the tower was built 75 years ago 340 persons have leaped to their death from it.

Japanese Freighter Reports Plane Attack

TOKYO (AP) — An unidentified plane fired on a small Japanese freighter in the Basil Channel between Formosa and the Philippines on the night of Jan. 31, the Tokyo paper Yomiuri reported today.
None of the 26 crewmen aboard the 1,333-ton Setyo Maru, was injured, the paper said. The incident came to light when a seamen's association asked for an investigation.

BOB FOSS MOTORS INC.

Pikes Peak at Wahsatch Dial 633-6501
Open 8 to 8

Sure we're proud that Mercury was named the best of the new cars — after four months and 4000 miles of testing by the Editors of CAR LIFE Magazine.
But. This coveted award wasn't exactly a surprise. It just confirms what sales figures (particularly here in the West) have already established ... that Mercury has the styling, the performance and comfort to make it the year's outstanding value.
Rewards are nice. Especially this one — which is considered the plum. But if you really want to be impressed, come in and slip behind the wheel of one of our magnificent new Mercurys. Go cruising a few miles. When you return, we think you'll agree — it just doesn't make much sense to spend $3000 for anything less.
